About the Speaker

Dr. Brittany Matin

Dr. Brittany Matin graduated from the University of Alabama at Birmingham in 2008 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Chemistry. During that time, she worked as a dental assistant at a local periodontist’s office and fell in love with dentistry and periodontal surgery. She followed her passion and received dental training from the University of Alabama School of Dentistry, where she graduated in 2012 with a Doctor of Dental Medicine degree. Following dental school, Dr. Matin received dual training in the field of Periodontics. She received two postgraduate certificates in Periodontology, one from the School of Dentistry Department of Periodontology and one from the Birmingham Veterans Affairs Hospital, and completed her training in 2015. She also obtained a Masters in Dentistry, which focused on the torque values of implants during dental implant placement. In 2015, Dr. Matin opened her own practice in Auburn. Dr. Matin also serves as an Assistant Professor at the School of Dentistry Department of Periodontology, where she helps educate dental students and residents in the post-graduate periodontal surgical clinic. Dr. Matin enjoys reading, photography, fishing, and being outdoors with her two sweet dogs. She also enjoys spending time with her husband, who is a Periodontist/Prosthodontist, and she is a new mother. Dr. Matin is passionate about dentistry, patient care, supporting the community, and improving the dental profession.

BUILDING A PRACTICE FOR TREATING DENTAL SLEEP MEDICINE

Sponsored by The William B. Farrar Distinguished Lecture Fund

Thursday, June 4: 9:00 am – 4:30 pm

Event Code: TB1  Fee: No Charge

This course is recommended for dentists.

About the Speaker

Dr. Terry Bennett

Dr. Terry Bennett graduated from the University of Louisville School of Dentistry in 1977. He is currently in his 42nd year of private practice with the last 29 being in a practice limited to the treatment of Temporomandibular Joint Dysfunction and Sleep Apnea. Dr. Bennett is a member of several organizations and holds certifications in many of them. He has been extremely active in the American Academy of Craniofacial Pain (AACCP), serving on the board of directors for over a decade, in addition to serving as Program Chair for four years and president for two years. He served as the AACCP Institute Director of Education, organizing and providing education associated with the treatment of TMD and dental sleep medicine. Among his many certifications are: DABCP (Diplomate American Board of Craniofacial Pain); DABCDSM (Diplomate American Board of Craniofacial Dental Sleep Medicine); DAAPM (Diplomate American Academy of Pain Management). Currently he divides his time between his private practice and lecturing for the AACCP, dental schools and other organizations.

Course Description

Dental Sleep Medicine is one of our profession’s fastest growing subspecialties and is due largely to the new recently recognized modes of treatment we can provide in our dental offices. The health of our patient populations will benefit tremendously as more dentists become involved in treating the dental sleep discipline. Dr. Bennett will present the skills necessary to begin looking at your patients in a different manner and recognize many of the warning signs of sleep disordered breathing problems. This presentation is applicable for those dentists just beginning in dental sleep medicine (DSM) as well as those wanting to expand their knowledge and increase their experience in providing oral appliance therapy to more patients in their practice and communities.

Learning Objectives

1) Know how to effectively perform a TMD and upper airway evaluation
2) Understand the different types of dental sleep apnea devices and how to choose for their patients
3) Treatment Options for OSA
4) Managing side effects of oral appliance therapy
5) How to determine appliance therapy success
6) Classification of sleep disorders
7) Physiology of normal sleep

About the Speaker
Dr. John Gammichia
Dr. John Gammichia is a 1995 graduate of the University of Florida College of Dentistry. He is a full-time private practicing dentist that prides himself on being conservative (almost to a fault). He is a graduate of the L.D. Pankey Institute and is a member of a Spear Study Club. He is a courtesy faculty professor at the University of Florida College of Dentistry.

Dr. Gammichia has spoken all over the country and written numerous articles regarding all aspects of dentistry. But mainly, he just loves being a dentist and wants you to love it too!

Course Descriptions and Learning Objectives

Morning Session
Whatever happened to the filling? The plain ole posterior composite, where did it go? For the last ten years or so, it has been pushed aside by all the “en vogue” dentistry; like CAD-CAM, digital impressions and everything implants. No one is talking about them so it almost seems like they are fading away.

Dr. Gammichia is passionate about posterior composites and can’t wait to teach the audience how to make a restored tooth look just like a work of art. This lecture will have movies, music and over 500 photos to keep the audience excited.

This presentation can revolutionize some practices. Imagine “wowing” every one of your restorative patients. Their excitement starts to rub off on you and the next thing you know you are excited about doing fillings. This lecture will bring instant gratification, teaching you things you can take back to your office and implement immediately.

A filling that looks just like a natural tooth...now doesn’t that sound sexy?

Afternoon Session
Dr. Gammichia has been pushing the envelope of adhesion dentistry since 1995 when he watched the original “bondodontist” Ray Bertolotti. This is real life and not everyone can afford an over $1200 treatment plan. So, if they can’t afford “ideal” dentistry what do you do?

You will see before and after photos of cases that you never thought were possible and 5, 10 and 15-year post op photos that will blow your mind. There is a movement to drill less on the cutting edge of this research. We are in a “caries crisis” and Dr. Gammichia will educate his audience on what to do before you cut on the tooth and the latest research on cariology.

He is so excited about bringing this material to you...you are going to love it!

This course is recommended for the entire dental team.

About the Speaker
Dr. Robert Vogel
Dr. Robert Vogel graduated Dental School from Columbia University in New York City before completing residency training at Jackson Memorial Hospital, Mount Sinai Medical Center and Miami Children’s Hospital in Miami, Florida. He maintains a full-time private practice in Palm Beach Gardens, Florida, in implant prosthetics and reconstructive dentistry, working closely as a team member with several specialists providing implant-based comprehensive treatment, as well as conducting clinical trials and providing clinical advice to the dental attachment and implant field.

Dr. Vogel has developed and collaborated on the development of several prosthetic components and techniques currently in use in implant dentistry. He lectures internationally on implant dentistry, focusing on simplification and predictability of implant prosthetics through ideal planning and team interaction. He has published numerous scientific articles in Implant Dentistry, is a Fellow of the International Team for Implantology, and serves on the Board of Directors of the Academy of Osseointegration.

Course Description
This up to date scientifically based presentation covers cutting edge Topics, Components and Techniques in Implant Prosthetics to immediately incorporate into practice with confidence. A Realist private practice approach to digital workflows from Planning to Intra-oral Scanning and Fabrication of final restoration. A systematic approach to Esthetic treatment of single teeth thru fully edentulous patients will be presented emphasizing long-term biologic and biomechanical stability, predictability and profitability with New options for Screw Retained restorations and ideal restorative material selection. Also discussed will be Fee Determination, Proper Insurance Codes and Patient Presentation Techniques. The Newest Components, Technologies and introduction to the recently released BLX implant will be presented to simplify decision making and expand immediacy.

Learning Objectives
✓ Confidence and Predictability with State-of-the-Art Implant Materials & Techniques.
✓ Improve Practice Productivity, Profitability and Reduce Complications.

This lecture will cover a wide variety of topics relevant to clinical practice, starting with the management of temporomandibular dysfunction and how surgery can be integrated into the treatment algorithm for patients with common TMJ conditions and end stage joint disease.

Part 2: The technique of virtual surgical planning is revolutionizing the world of oral and maxillofacial surgery, in areas as wide-ranging as implantology and orthognathic surgery to alloplastic reconstruction of the TMJ. This lecture series will also describe how virtual surgical planning can facilitate the design process to refine and improve surgical outcomes, and minimize the risk of complications.

Part 3: The lecture program will conclude by discussing the fundamental principles of teledentistry, its current national status and the behind the scenes initiatives involved in framing a vision for the future. The information will cover the important subjects of state practice act regulations, reimbursement policies, and the education of the wider health community.

About the Speaker:

Dr. Nigel Shaun Matthews

Dr. Matthews is the Director of Telehealth and Associate Professor in the Department of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery at the University of North Carolina, Adams School of Dentistry. He was recruited from King's College Hospital, London where he practiced as a Consultant Surgeon for 11 years. He completed his specialist training at Canniesburn Hospital in Glasgow, Scotland and developed a specific interest in both temporomandibular joint (TMJ) and facial deformity surgery.

In 2009, Dr. Matthews established the first true TMJ Multidisciplinary Clinic in the United Kingdom, a model that is now being adopted internationally. More recently, he developed an innovative virtual and real-time interdisciplinary clinic with pediatric rheumatologists at the University of North Carolina and Duke University Hospital, specifically for the management of TMJ pathology in children with juvenile idiopathic arthritis.

Dr. Matthews has written several book chapters and over 40 peer reviewed articles on TMJ-related subjects. He has delivered international webinars, presentations and courses throughout Europe, North America, Australia, India, Brazil and the Caribbean. He is a Fellow of both the Royal College of Surgeons of England and Edinburgh, and a member of the American and European Society of TMJ Surgeons. His work on jaw joint replacement surgery has been extensively cited in international journals and newspapers.
